

Robin Baird Wright – Personal Policy – Important information about your cover

We understand that reading your insurance policy can be a tedious task and is possibly not at the top of your list of priorities. We include this information document to make sure that you are aware of the REALLY important things about your cover, and to help you find your way around your policy wording. Remember, it is still your responsibility to read through and make sure you understand the policy wording.

VERY IMPORTANT: This document is for your information only and does not form part of your policy wording. It highlights a few aspects of your cover, you need to read the cover section policy wording for all the details. It covers all the sections that are available to you, but the ones that you selected and have cover for are listed in your policy schedule.

Understanding your policy

(For more information refer to the Understanding your policy section and your policy schedule)

You must comply with the terms and conditions for cover

The Understanding your policy cover section explains your responsibilities and applies to all the cover sections that you select under the policy. You (the policyholder named in the policy schedule who is the owner of this policy), any person covered under this policy and the co-insured (if applicable) must comply with all the terms and conditions including rules, responsibilities and claims processes shown in your policy wording and policy schedule. We have the right to reject a claim if you do not adhere to the terms and conditions, so it is very important that you understand what these are.

You must give us all material information and tell us within 21 days of any changes

(For more information refer to Your responsibilities in the Understanding your policy section)

You must tell us when any of your information changes, especially material information which could influence our decision to accept a risk and insure your property. You have 21 days from the date that any material information changes to contact us. Important changes that you must tell us about include moving to a new address, adding a thatch lapa to your house, changing the security of your house, if you are charged or convicted of a criminal offence or if the regular driver of your vehicle changes. You must also tell us about any material changes that may increase the risk of loss or damage to your property such as when your home will be unoccupied or when you renovate your home.

We have the right either to cancel the policy, let it continue with new terms and conditions and change your premium when we become aware of the changes. If we cancel your policy, you will lose your right to claim.

You must be honest

(For more information refer to Your responsibilities in the Understanding your policy section)

All the information you give us about yourself, your property and your risk profile must be accurate, honest and in good faith. This will include information about your financial situation (such as insolvency), taking up a dangerous sport like hang-gliding, or the details of the regular driver of your vehicle.

Please make sure that you have told us about ALL your previous claims from the past three years, because this information affects your premium and might affect how we assess your future claims.

Giving us incorrect information or misrepresenting information could mean that you will lose your right to claim and we will not pay back any claims premiums we have received. We may even take legal steps to recover any expenses from you.

You must have an insurable interest

(For more information refer to Your responsibilities in the Understanding your policy section)

For an insurance policy to be valid, you must have an insurable interest in all the insured property throughout the period of insurance. For example, a parent does not have insurance interest in their child's vehicle if ALL of the following applies:

- The vehicle is registered in the child's name.
- The vehicle is paid for by the child.
- The child is not financially dependent on the parent.

Claiming

(For more information refer to Claiming under this policy in the Understanding your policy section)

This section tells you everything about how to claim under this policy but remember that some cover sections have additional conditions or requirements that apply only to that cover section, you should always read this section together with the cover section you are claiming under. There are certain cover sections that have their own information that you need to refer to in the event of a claim, these cover sections include:

- Cyber insurance
- Legal costs
- Personal accident
- Personal liability

Ownership and value: We will ask you to provide us with proof of ownership and proof of value. In some cases, we may specifically require a valuation certificate and for claims under the Motor cover section, we will always need a copy of the vehicle's registration document as proof of ownership.

Damage assessment: If your insured property is damaged, you must give us the opportunity to assess the damage. We may reject your claim if you repair (except for emergency repairs under the Motor, Pleasure-craft, Buildings and Household contents cover sections), replace or dispose of damaged insured property before we have had the opportunity to assess the damage.

Salvage: Any insured property that we decide is uneconomical to repair, or any lost or stolen property that is found after a claim has been settled, is referred to as salvage. Salvage is our property, and we may sell it to cover our claims cost. This clause does not apply to claims for:

- Salvage of a pleasure-craft written off outside South Africa under the Pleasure-craft cover section.
- Salvage of a vehicle written off outside South Africa under the Motor cover section.

Noting the interest of financial institutions: If the insured property (for instance your motor vehicle or home) is financed, we accept the financial institution's interest in your property.

- Accepted claims:
 - We will pay the financial institution first.
 - The financial institution's acceptance of our payment will mean that we have no further responsibility for that portion of your claim. If the claim amount is more than your outstanding loan with the financial institution, we will pay the difference to you.
 - If the claim amount is less than your outstanding loan with the financial institution, we will pay the full claim amount to the financial institution. You will still have to pay the balance of your outstanding loan to the financial institution.
- Rejected claims under the Buildings cover section:
 - We will not pay anything to you. However, we will pay the outstanding loan amount or the claim amount (whichever is the lesser) to the financial institution if both of the following apply:
 - The rejection of your claim was not for reasons of fraud, or dishonesty, or misrepresentation or because of your deliberate actions, or any other person colluding with you.

- The financial institution was not aware of the reasons that led to our rejection of your claim, or the financial institution was aware but they informed us as soon as they became aware of it.

We reserve our right to recover any payments we have made to a financial institution, from you.

Premium payment

(For more information refer to When and how to pay your premiums in the Understanding your policy section)

Your cover won't start until we have received your first premium. All premiums must be paid in advance, either monthly or annually as shown in your policy schedule. If your policy automatically cancels because we did not receive your first premium, and you want to insure your property again, we will treat it as a new policy and your premium might be different. We may change your premium after a policy change, a claim or on the renewal date.

Monthly premiums are payable by bank debit order on your chosen premium collection date, but your cover runs for a calendar month.

Annual premiums are payable by bank debit order or as agreed with your broker.

- Cooling-off period: If there isn't a valid claim within the first fourteen days after you have received the policy documents, you may cancel your cover with effect from the date your cover started. You must tell us within fourteen days from the date you received the policy documents and we will pay back all the premiums you have paid for the cancelled cover.

When policy conditions change

(For more information refer to When policy conditions change in the Understanding your policy section)

- We will send you an updated notice at least 31 days before the effective date of any changes we make.
- We will automatically renew your policy on the terms shown in the updated policy schedule and policy wording unless you tell us that you want to make changes to our renewal terms.
- Your policy will align to any legislation changes until such time as the policy wording is updated.

Limits, sum insured, waiting periods and excesses

(For more information refer to: your policy schedule – including the Excess and Limit section)

- Limits: The limit is the most we will pay for a claim. The limit could be the sum insured, or it could be a different amount. The limits for all benefits are shown in your policy schedule.
- Sum insured: The sum insured is the value of an item that you asked us to insure, and it is shown in your policy schedule. You must make sure that you insure your property for its current replacement value. If you insure your property for less than its current replacement value or you might be under-insured. When you are under-insured you can be exposed to serious financial loss if a claim occurs.
 - Each month, we will automatically increase the sums insured for your Buildings, Household Contents and All Risks – Unspecified, by an inflation-linked percentage. At your renewal date, the increased sum insured will be formally shown in your policy schedule, and your premium will be adjusted accordingly.
(This is explained under We will renew your policy every year on your renewal date under the heading When policy conditions change in the Understanding your policy section)
 - Vehicles must be insured for the retail value or if agreed, for the sum insured agreed annually.
 - If your vehicle's VIN has been tampered with and has been allocated with a SAPVIN code by the police, we may reduce your pay-out by a minimum of the 30% of the retail value if your vehicle is written off or stolen.
- Waiting periods: Sometimes, for some cover sections, you will not be able to claim for a short time after you take out the cover. If a waiting period applies to your cover, it will be shown in your policy schedule. Where any cover, such as in the Legal costs cover section, is subject to a waiting period, you may only claim once it has ended.

○ Excesses

(For more information refer to How your excess works in the Understanding your policy section)

- An excess is the first amount you must pay when you claim. Your excess is made up of a basic excess, possible excesses payable when conditions are not met, potential additional/compulsory excesses and voluntary excesses (if selected). Please check your policy schedule to see what your excess amounts are and if there are any additional excesses that apply to you. If your claim involves more than one benefit under a cover section, you only have to pay the highest excess.
- All basic excesses (except for those noted below) become nil when the policyholder is aged 55 or older unless the policyholder opts to pay a basic excess. However, an excess is always payable regardless of the age of the policyholder for claims related to the following benefits:
 - Power surge under the Buildings and Household Contents cover sections.
 - Theft of spare wheels under the Motor cover section.
 - Data restoration under the Cyber insurance cover section.

Additional cover and conditions for cover

These are important concepts that you need to understand and be aware of when you take up cover and in the event of a claim.

- Additional cover you can choose: This is cover that is not automatically included – it applies only if you have specifically requested it, i.e. it is listed as covered in your policy schedule and you pay an additional premium for it. The limit provided under this section is in addition to the limit provided under the What we cover you for section. Additional cover options are shown in each cover section.
- Conditions for cover: Some cover sections include conditions for cover. Please read through these carefully and understand what they are as they may affect your claims.

Sasria cover

(For more information refer to Sasria cover in the Understanding your policy section. You can refer to the Sasria policy wording at the end of your policy document for a full description of the cover provided and exclusions.)

We do not provide cover against loss or damage caused by special risks such as politically motivated malicious acts, riots, strikes, terrorism, and other public disorders. The insurer that provides cover for these kinds of events in South Africa is Sasria SOC Limited. We collect the Sasria premium and issue Sasria's policy wording on their behalf. Sasria applies in South Africa only, however, cover on vehicles is also provided in Namibia for a period of not more than 60 consecutive days. All claims must be sent to Hollard, and not to Sasria. However, all approved claims will be settled by Sasria, and not by Hollard.

Please note that there are some events that are not covered by Sasria, and it is important to read your Sasria policy wording to understand your cover.

Exclusions

(For more information refer to General exclusions – What is not covered, in the Understanding your policy section)

There are certain things we do not cover – these are called exclusions. We may reject a claim if the loss or damage was caused by an exclusion or related to an exclusion. These exclusions apply to all the cover sections except for Cyber insurance and Personal accident. The most important general exclusions you must know of are:

- Consequential loss – which is the further loss you may suffer because of an initial insured event (unless cover is specified as part of your policy). For example, if your car is in an accident on your way to the airport, we will cover you for the damaged car, but not for any loss you may suffer as a result of you missing your flight.
- Cyber incidents – unless you have chosen cover under the Cyber insurance cover section.
- Electricity grid failure – this exclusion does not apply to loadshedding.
- Intentional acts – this exclusion relates to liability, loss or damage caused by criminal, dishonest, reckless or intentional acts committed by you, members of your household or a co-insured – even if it happens with your or their knowledge or consent.

- Mechanical, electrical and electronic breakdown – this exclusion does not apply to the included Geysers cover under the Buildings section and the Accidental damage – extended cover under the Household Contents section.
- Outbreaks, pandemics and epidemics – which means a declared or classified epidemic or pandemic or a communicable disease.
- Riots, public disorder, terrorism (which you can choose to cover through Sasria).
- Wear and tear – which means the gradual deterioration because of normal usage or the passage of time.

Specific exclusions: These exclusions are explained under the heading What is not covered. Certain exclusions may be cancelled if you chose cover for something that would normally be excluded.

Your Buildings cover

You must insure your building for its full current replacement value to prevent under-insurance. The cost of replacing your building should include the cost of:

- removing all the remains and rubble,
- drawing up building plans and getting them approved,
- and then rebuilding everything you currently have (including outbuildings) at current building costs.

IMPORTANT: The table below highlights only a few aspects of your cover, you need to read the cover section policy wording for all the details.

What we cover you for	Theft: We cover theft (or attempted theft) of any part of your building, but what we pay out depends on the underlying circumstances, including if your outbuildings are unoccupied, if you do not comply with the minimum security requirements or if there is no forcible and violent entry. This is explained in detail under the sub-heading How much we pay for theft claims , in the Buildings cover section.
	Damage to concealed water pipes: We will cover damage to concealed water pipes as a result of gradual deterioration once during the lifetime of the policy – thereafter it will be for your own account.
	Subsidence, landslip or ground heave: There is limited cover for loss or damage caused by subsidence, landslip or ground heave of the land supporting it. You can however extend your cover with the additional benefit Subsidence, landslip or ground heave – extended cover , but it is ALWAYS subject to our approval.
	Geysers: You will only be covered for the actual costs if you get permission to replace your geysers. If you don't get permission, we will only pay up to the limit as shown in your policy schedule.
	Power surge: This cover is optional and can be made available to you at an additional premium. This cover only applies if you have installed a surge arrester on the main distribution board of the Building.
Specific exclusions	NO COVER if your building: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ is unoccupied for longer than 60 days in a row, unless we have agreed to it or you have told us it is a holiday home. ○ has a thatch roof or if the building is of a non-standard construction, unless specifically mentioned in your policy schedule. ○ is not properly maintained. NO COVER for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ loss or damage caused by domestic animals that belong to you, or by vermin, except for monkeys and baboons.

Your All Risks cover

Make sure that you are happy with how you have insured your property that you remove from your home, and that your policy schedule shows your choice correctly. Cover for loss or damage due to Power surge is subject to having selected the cover under the Household contents section.

You can choose to cover these out and about items as:

- Specified property, which tends to be items of high value. We only pay up to the value you gave us per item. You must provide us with a very detailed description of the property because if any information is incorrect, we may not pay a claim.
 - Loss or damage will be covered while they are away or at your home.
- Unspecified property, which tends to include items of a lower value, such as clothing and groceries, and each item does not have to be specified. We will pay up to the limit stated in your policy schedule for any one item or several items, like make-up in a handbag.
 - These items will only be covered for loss or damage while they are away from the home. If loss or damage occurs at your home cover will be under the Household contents section.

The following is not covered and can only be covered under Specified property:

- Vehicle sound equipment.

- Any telecommunication devices such as cell phones (excluding accessories).
- Drones and remote-controlled aeroplanes.

We will pay out based on the replacement cost of any damaged or lost property and How much we pay is explained under the heading Paying out after a claim, in the All Risks cover section. Remember that if you have more than one insurance policy in place that covers the same item, the way we deal with a claim will depend on whether the item is insured as a specified item or unspecified property – this is explained under the sub-heading Dual insurance.

You can choose to cover your personal computer in one of two ways:

- Specify the personal computer for loss or damage under the All Risks cover section; OR
- Take cover for personal computers, desktops, laptops and tablets and their associated accessories under the Personal Computers section. Details on the following additional benefits are included in the Personal computers cover section:
 - accidental electronic breakdown;
 - ensuring compatibility between your old and new computer; and
 - reinstatement of data.

The replacement value and the cover that you have chosen (accidental electronic breakdown, compatibility and reinstatement of data) must in be included in the total sum insured.

When considering the replacement value of your computer, remember to include any accessories and software supplied as part of the computer by the original equipment manufacturer AND any programs or software for which you have a legal licence.
